

YOUR OWN

MANIFESTO

The Manifesto Project

We live in a rapidly changing world, and it's time we must change with it. The Big Beacon Manifesto focuses on change within the world of higher education— but there are plenty of other areas of society that are overdue for a transformation.

Look to your workplace, organization, or industry — which practices are no longer working in this 21st century world? Want to help jumpstart that change? Consider writing your own Manifesto. But don't stress — you can use ours as an example to craft your own!

Or, would you like to contribute a version of our original Manifesto, translated in a different language? We are graciously accepting translations in any and all languages, as Big Beacon's mission is a global one.

Inspired to get writing? We'd love to link to your Manifesto once you've finished. Send your Manifesto to emma@bigbeacon.org

